

Project Images

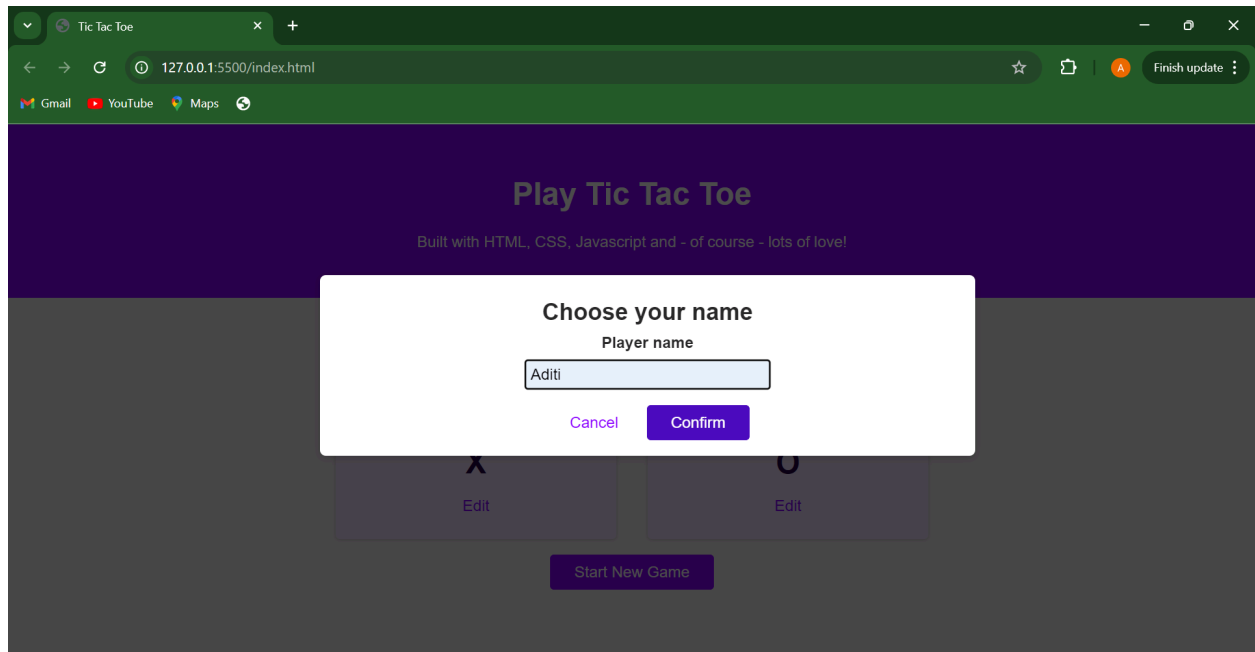

This is how my website looks:)

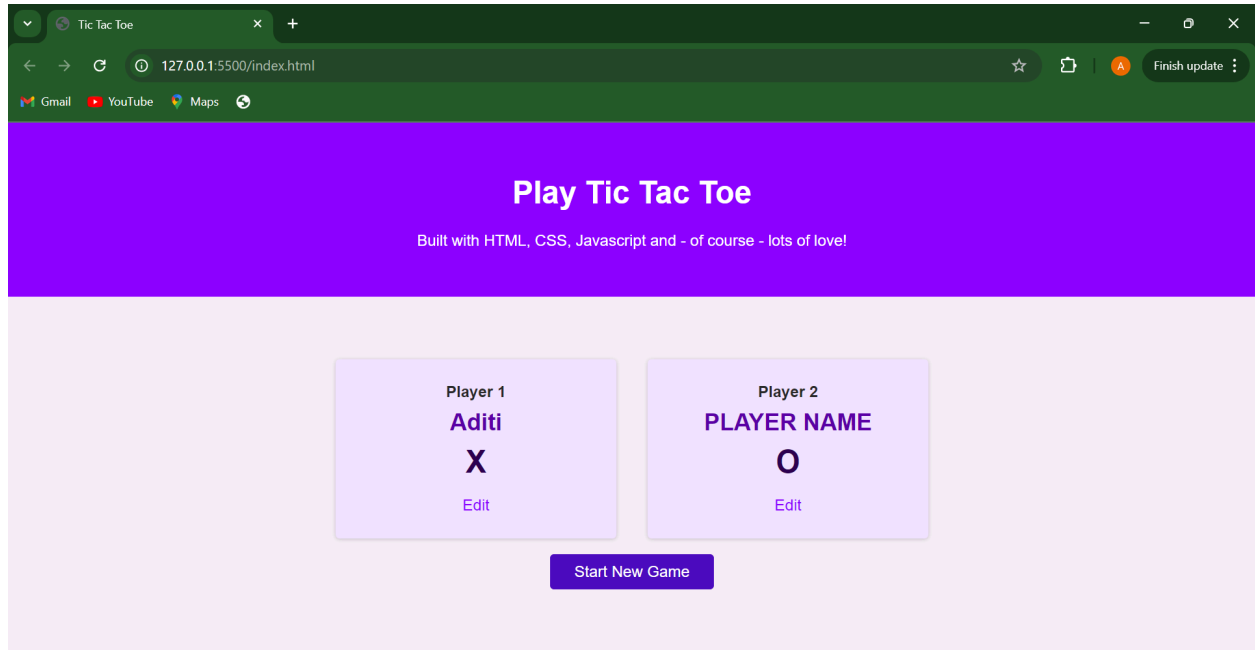

It's a 2 player game,so before starting,we can give the player names by clicking on edit and such pop-up window opens—>

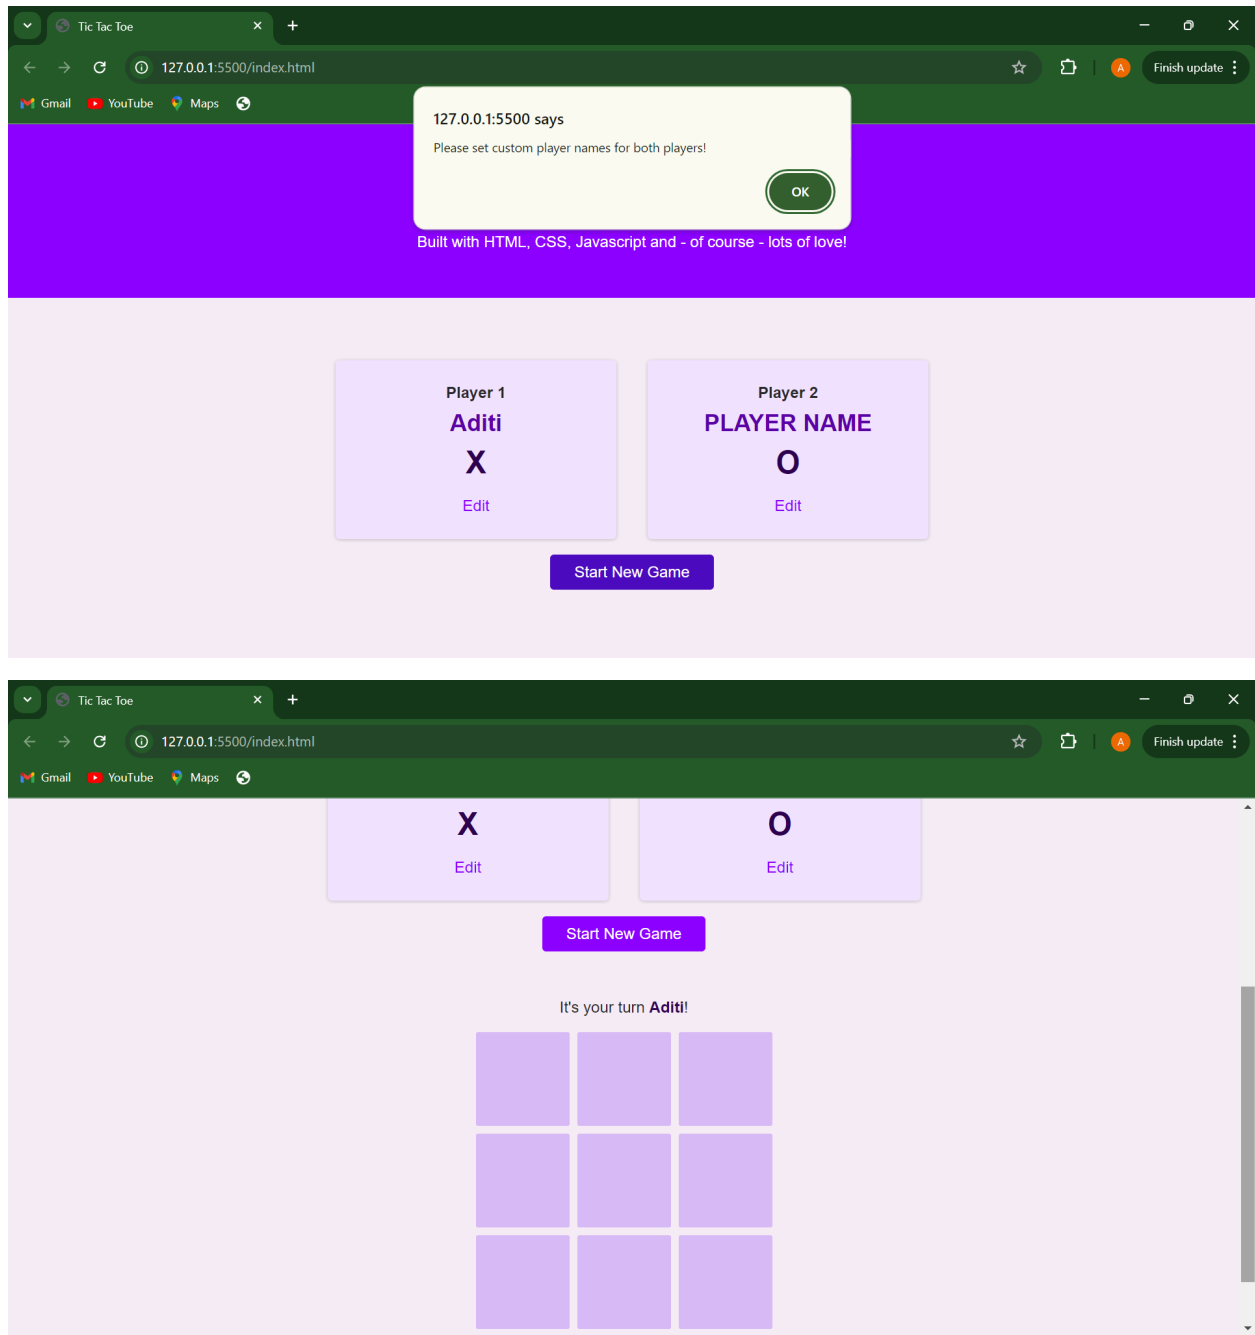

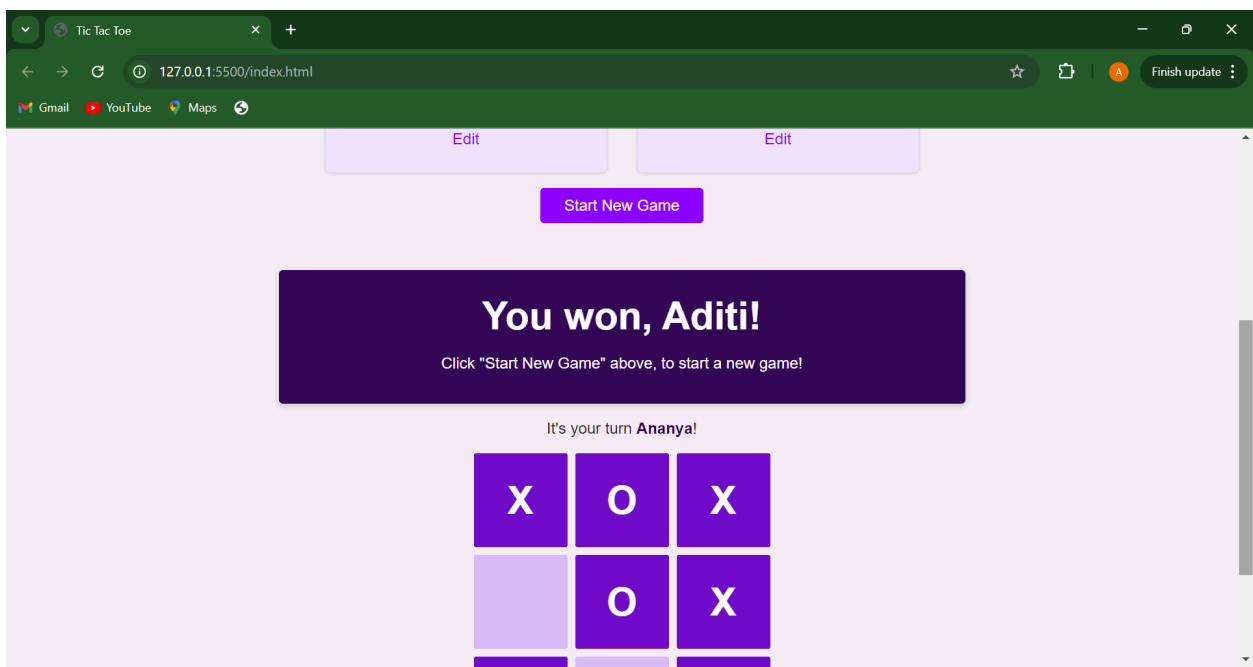

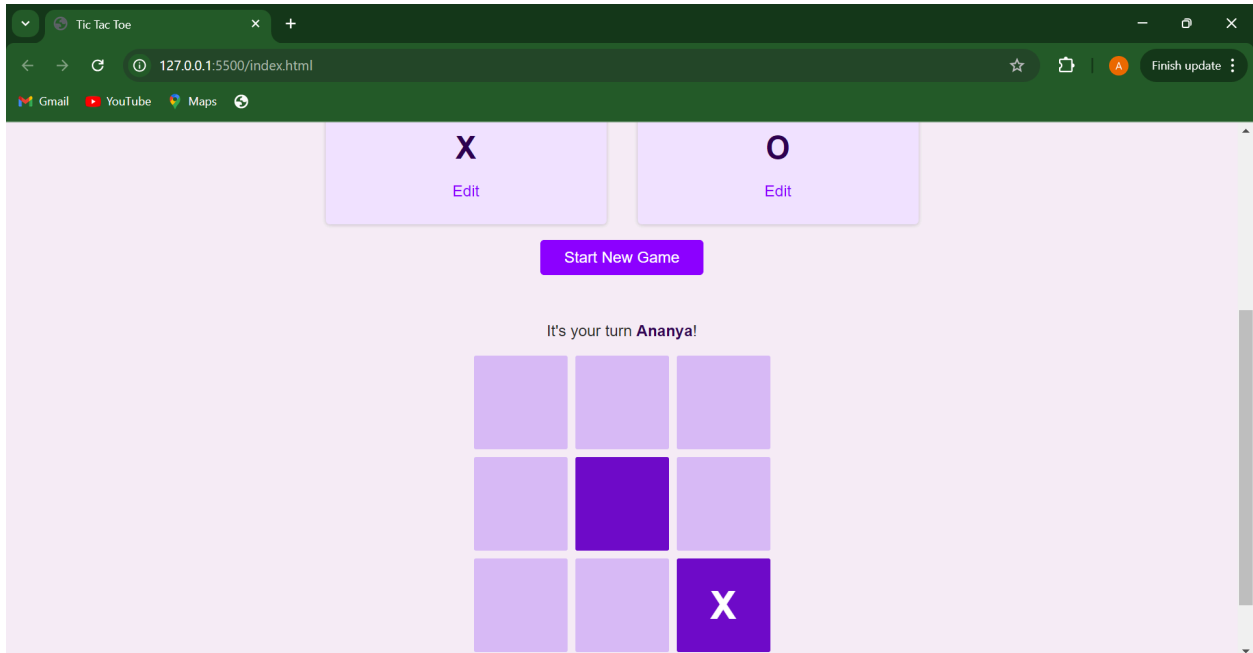

After choosing player names, we can click on Confirm. Once our names of both the players are selected we can start playing the game—>

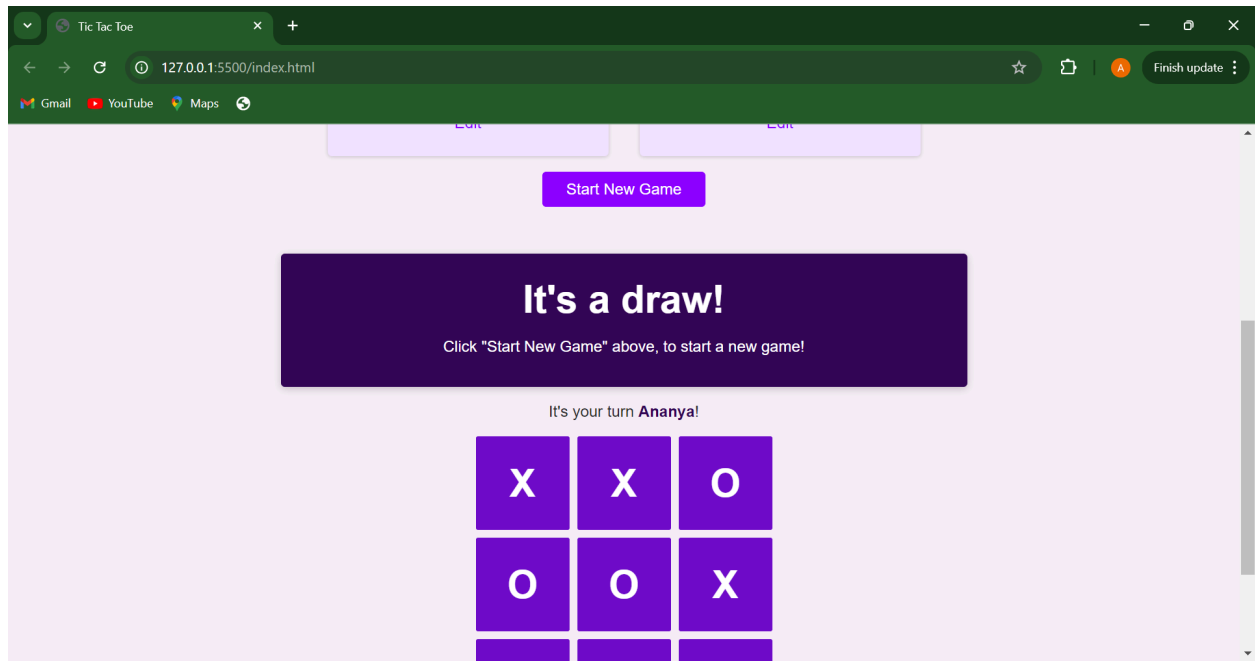

If we click on Start New Game before entering names of both players, an alert comes!

This is how the game board looks like....showing the particular player's turn,who has to do

This is how it shows the Winner,after which we can start again

Also successful in showing the draw matches:)